May Club Outing

The May club outing was the American Numismatic Association's National Money Show that was held at the Colorado Convention Center May 10-12. We were scheduled to meet at the convention center when the doors opened at 10:00 Saturday May 12th.

Upon arriving at the convention center I could see Joe Koch and Linda Erickson patiently waiting for Ron to arrive from parking the car. While waiting I received a text from Cindy Bockenstedt stating that she and several other club members were at the entrance to the show. In a couple of minutes

Joe, Linda and I were on our trek to catch up to Ron and find the Money Show which was at the far end of the convention center.

Once inside the exhibit hall we gathered for a picture under the welcome sign and then we parted ways to go see things that interested each of our personalities. Believe it or not but the vast majority of us ended up at a display case that had a bunch of raw gold along with some Lesher Dollars and peace medals. This display case was an amazing exhibit that captivated us. It seemed like we were there for just a couple of minutes when it was time to head to the talk on the Lesher Dollars given by Christopher Marchase who spoke at our meeting about the Clark and Gruber mint the night before. This talk was much more technical in regards to the known mintages, numbers of surviving pieces and die differences. My goodness this man knows his Lesher Dollars.

After the talk we made our way back to the money show and started to go our own separated ways again. Cindy and I kind of hung together and chatted. After looking through some displays we began to wonder where everybody went and soon spotted Joe. He was over near a few gentlemen in suites and very large computer monitors. Joe had brought his 1873 with arrow CC dime that won FOM coin during our May meeting. This coin is extremely rare and the people Joe was with were photographing the coin with an ultra high resolution, high magnification "micro scope". One of the people that Joe was talking to was from Coin World magazine. They were in the process of doing a two issue article on the 1873 CC dime and they were VERY interested in Joe's coin. He also mentioned that Joe's coin may be the focus of a feature article in his maga-

Secretary's Report

May 11, 2012

President Ron Erickson called the May meeting to order at 7:40. There were approximately 69 members present and several guests, including Rod Hosman.

Christopher Marchase was the guest speaker. He's president of Colorado Tokens and Rare Coin. He spoke about Clark, Gruber and Company, the predecessor to the Denver Mint. This company coined gold dust brought from the gold fields by the miners. For almost three years, it minted gold coins and ingots.

Christopher brought his personal collection of Clark and Gruber (appraised at over $50,000). What a great Show-and-Tell!

The National Money Show was at the Colorado Convention Center May 10-12. The Club had an outing to the show and the members definitely enjoyed themselves.

Please remember to take out of the hunt field any trash you recover—do not bury it again.

Metal detecting is now permitted in Wheat Ridge. A permit is required. Go to <http://www.ci.wheatridge.co.us/DocumentView.aspx?DID=3558> for the application and rules/regulations.

May's Moose Hunt was cancelled due to rain; it's rescheduled for June 10.

Details can be found in this newsletter.

Thanks to everyone who brought snacks for the meeting.

Don't forget, any member can write an article or forward an Internet/magazine article (with credit to the author/publisher) to Jeff Lubbert, coindigr@hotmail.com, for this newsletter. Also, if you have any suggestions, talk with a board member.

June Prez Says

The Moose were hiding and the rain would have made for soggy buns on and off the field, so it was decided to move the Moose hunt to June 10th. Mark your calendar and let's have some fun.

Wow, 2012 is at the halfway mark and I sure have not fulfilled half of my goals. I guess I better get busy. How about you?

We have been working on acquiring some artifacts and arranging to have some reenactors in attendance for the Blue and Gray hunt that will be held in July. Thanks to Boots for allowing us to use his ranch for this hunt. It is going to be fantastic.

On a recent road trip to visit relatives, I was given the opportunity to help someone new to the hobby understand his machine better and to go over the basics of metal detecting. Sometimes it is easy to forget all the steps that we take in finding and recovering items from the ground. So, next time you see a newbie, please take the time to slow down and give a few minutes of guidance. You might be surprised at the things you remember that can help you fine tune what you are doing out in the field. A good example would be sweep speed and how it affects target identification.

We need your stories to help fill the newsletter. Please submit them to Jeff.

Happy Hunting,

Ron

LuLubelle's Lost Bling Treasure Puzzle

A cryptogram is an encoded message. The code used is called a simple substitution cypher. This means that the message is encoded by replacing each character in the message with a letter of the alphabet. Every time a particular character occurs in the message, it is replaced with the same code letter. Word spacing and punctuation are not changed.

Some people like to solve cryptograms much like some people like to do crossword puzzles. The cryptogram is solved by looking for frequently used characters and clues provided by letter patterns and word spacing. Solve the cryptogram shown below, find LuLu's bling and bring it to the next regular Eureka! meeting to collect a prize.

ARTIFACT - Bernie Watts

Lone Ranger Pin

Bernie was hunt Bergen Park with his XLT for the umpteenth time. Like so many times in the past after darkness had set in he made his way back to his truck. But this time he didn't switch off his detector. While detecting his way back to this truck he got a nice quarter signal and this great little pin was the result. This just goes to prove, hunt your way back to your vehicle!

zine in the near future. Yes, Joe's coin was making quite a stir at this convention and rightfully so.

After that conversation Joe had to leave so Cindy and I made our way over to Christopher's booth to talk with him. We looked over his display of coins and collectables while chatting he mentioned that he had some stuff to donate to the club. Christopher handed an envelope to Cindy and when she dumped out the contents we were both amazed at the quantity and quality of the items that Christopher had given the club. Not only is this man very knowledgeable but he is very generous as well. At the next couple of board meetings we will decide how these items will be given out to our membership.

Cindy and I found a few of our fellow Eureka members and shared with them the items that Christopher had donated. While looking over some bulk coins our group was approached by a couple of people who were inquisitive about metal detecting. The one gentleman had just purchased an MXT and was wondering how he could get some experience with it. I gave him a few pointers, some information on the club along with a business card and mentioned that he could contact me for further information on the club and detecting.

The time at the show passed WAY too quickly, there was so much more to see than time allowed. It would have been pretty easy to be overwhelmed by this show. But since I was limited in the amount of time that I had available to enjoy the show, my focus was pretty tight. Somehow I managed to walk out the door without purchasing a single coin, that might have been a first for me. Overall I would say that it was a pretty darn good show. Though with several empty booths, the show could have been better. I was able to see some very rare and of course valuable coins, one display worth noting was the 1792 half-disme. I learn a few things and meet some really nice people. So I count it a success.

Next time the ANA brings a show to Denver, I can honestly say that all members should go. It is worth the time and entry fee.

2. All hunters must wear headphones.
3. Absolutely no tolerance of holes left open. A first warning, followed by a time-out or expulsion from the hunt.
4. Hunters digging and leaving trash of any sort on the hunt field should receive the same treatment discussed above.

In Memory of Roy Yerby

A former Eureka member, Roy Yerby, Jr., passed away on May 9, 2012. His memorial service will be held June 4 at 4:00 p.m. at the Mile Hi Church, 9077 W. Alameda Ave. When hunting with Roy, he had a habit of pulling something out of his pouch and with a big grin on his face ask "is this what we are looking for?" It would always be a great find like a Hardee hat pin or a gold coin. He was a great relic hunter. I hope he is still saying "is this what we are looking for?" Roy will be missed.

1873 w/ Arrows CC Dime

I am sure that there were several of you out in the crowd during the last meeting that were wondering "So what is the big deal with that crummy dime that Joe brought in?" WELL!! This is an exceptionally rare coin.

In February of 1873 Congress passed a law raising the weight of the dime from 2.49 grams to 2.50 grams. It does not seem like much of a change, but significant enough for the mint to indicate that change by adding arrows on both sides of the date. The 1873 dimes that were struck prior to this increase of weight and addition of the arrows were all melted. Well almost all were melted, one example of the 1873 no arrow CC dime exists. With the changes to the dies as well as the planchets the mintage of the 1873 w/ arrows CC dime was only 18,791. With that number of coins produced, this would be a scarce date. And now it is estimated that 99.8% of these dimes were melted. Wow that makes this dime exceedingly scarce one might even consider it rare.

As of 2009 there were 35 of this variety that had been certified. Another estimate is there are only 50-75 1873 w/ arrows CC dimes still in existence. Yes his coin is exceptionally scarce.

It is too bad what the acids from all the goose excrement over those years on the bottom of the lake did to the surfaces of this coin. If it were now in the condition it was in when it was lost Joe could afford himself a new car.

This is a once in a life time or even several life times find.

Well don Joe!!
