Traveling with Fellow Club Members

There is nothing quite as nice as flying south in the winter. And who better to fly south with than detecting friends from the club. We had a great opportunity to head to the Emerald Coast of Florida this past week with Richard and Linda Kibler. Now for those of you who have not planned any traveling trips with other individuals from the club, I highly recommend it. Over the years, Ron and I have had the pleasure of traveling to Mexico a number of times with John & Charlotte Steele, Jeff & Diane Lubbert, past club members Gary & Ada Keim, Bill & Diana Havens and Cliff & Wendy McGaughey. We have also met up with Jay & Jane Reed at an out-of-town hunt near Durango and with Gary & Ada Keim for Treasure Week in Ohio. We chose different locations in Mexico for the various trips and were never disappointed in our accommodations at all-inclusive resorts. We have always had a great time when we have traveled with others from the club. This trip to Florida was no different—we had great accommodations in a beautiful setting and great traveling companions. Being the history buffs that we are, our first sight-seeing stop in Florida was to Fort Pickens in Pensacola. For over a century, Fort Pickens protected the coastline from foreign invasion. Fort Pickens, named after Revolutionary War hero, Andrew Pickens, is the largest of four forts built to defend Pensacola Bay and its navy yard. Construction of the fort, containing over 21.5 million bricks, began in 1829 and was completed in 1834. A New Orleans company provided a work force of skilled African-American slave labor to construct the fort. Interestingly, Fort Pickens was one of only four forts in the South that was never occupied by the Confederates. We toured the different areas of the fort, including the officers' quarters, casemates (interior gun rooms), battery rooms, mine chambers, tunnels, tower bastion, parade ground, and of course the tourist store at the fort.

From Pensacola, we headed to Panama City Beach where we met up with Ron Leonardson, a contact we had made a couple of months ago through a local club in the area. Ron graciously allowed us the use of any of his equipment and joined us for a couple of days of detecting. Although Ron has only lived in the area for a year, he was able to make some suggestions about where we might try our luck detecting and made some excellent restaurant recommendations. We spent much of the week at various beaches and parks in the area. We spent evenings in the hot tub talking to other vacationers about our hobby. It turns out Richard became a celebrity of sorts as he

Secretary's Report

January 11, 2013

President Ron Erickson called the January meeting to order at 7:30. There were approximately 67 members present and the following guests were present: Sam Fernandez, Michael Jeffries, Samuel Knopp, Allie McCormick and Ryan Schacklott.

Because the Eureka! membership was nominating and electing board members, there was no guest speaker. Instead, members shared how they find and get permission to hunt various locations.

The Club now has baseball caps with the Eureka! logo for $10.

There was no January hunt. January's hunt was a visit to the new History Colorado Center.

Please remember to take out of the hunt field any trash you recover—do not bury it again. In fact, take a photo of the trash, include the park's sign in the photo and send the photo to Cindy Bockenstedt, seychik@aol.com. Cindy's our new Newsletter Editor. Photos, like this, can serve as evidence of metal detecting's contribution to the community

Thanks to everyone who brought dessert for December's Dessert Meeting.

Don't forget, any member can write an article or forward an Internet/magazine article (with credit to the author/publisher) to Cindy Bockenstedt, seychik@aol.com. Also, if you have any suggestions, talk with a board member.

Feb Prez says

Hi all. We started out the New Year with voting for finds of the year and our volunteer awards of the year. We also had a great outing at the history Museum. Thanks to Cindy for arranging the museum outing.

This year we are celebrating our 40th year as a club. We will be putting on a grand hunt to celebrate, and from the look of things, we will be talking about this one for years to come.

Linda and I just returned from a trip to Florida with Linda and Richard Kibler. We had a great time! You can read more about our trip in Linda's article in this issue of Soundoff. We met a few others detecting on the beach, we swapped stories, and we encouraged those with interest to take up the hobby. You never know what you might find, but if you don't turn on the machine and get off the couch you know you will find nothing. A day without targets is still better than not being out there detecting at all. So blow the dust off and go find some place to swing a machine. You might be surprised at what you can find even in these winter months.

Treasure Puzzle

A cryptogram is an encoded message. The code used is called a simple substitution cypher. This means that the message is encoded by replacing each character in the message with a letter of the alphabet. Every time a particular character occurs in the message, it is replaced with the same code letter. Word spacing and punctuation are not changed.

Some people like to solve cryptograms much like some people like to do crossword puzzles. The cryptogram is solved by looking for frequently used characters and clues provided by letter patterns and word spacing. Solve the cryptogram shown below, find LuLu's bling and bring it to the next regular Eureka! meeting to collect a prize.

Finds of the Month Winners - January

GOLD - John Cornelisse

Men's 10kt Wedding Band

John was using his XP Deus in a Denver middle school when he came across this nice ring.

TOKEN – Cindy Bockenstedt

H. Williams Dairy Token

Cindy was detecting with her MXT armed with a 4x6 DD coil at an abandoned house in the public right of way when she came across this token next to the sidewalk. From 3" down she pulled this GREAT token.

JEWELRY - Steve Montano

Silver Ring

Steve was on the beach in Cabo, Mexico detecting with a barrowed Beach Hunter ID when he found this pretty little ring.

ARTIFACT - Terry Weatherly

1941 Chauffer's License Badge

Terry was at a scrape-off in Littleton using his XLT when he made this wonderful find in the corner of the bull dozer scrape. This find was made only feet from a silver dime.

COIN - Cindy Bockenstedt

1925 Mercury Dime

Cindy was detecting with her MXT armed with a 4x6 DD coil at a 1900's farm house tear down in Littleton when she pulled this Merc from 6"-8" deep.

was the hot topic of conversation in the hot tubs and in the elevators since he spent most of one day chest deep in the cool waters within view of condo guests. Not having any luck with the beaches we detected, we decided to rent a boat, load up the picnic lunch and detectors, and head off to Shell Island—a small, uninhabited island in the bay area where, according to a local metal detecting shop owner, their club had not hunted. I thought, okay, today's the day to find some old Spanish treasure on a small deserted island. With Captain Richard behind the wheel, the two Lindas enjoying the sunshine on the front of the boat and Ron at the back, we headed out for Shell Island. Because our finds had been few, I decided it was time to have a little fun with our friends. Remember that tourist shop at Fort Pickens I mentioned earlier? Well, when no one was looking, I purchased a replica Spanish Reale. The plan was to pull a little prank on Linda Kibler by planting that Spanish Reale in her path. Ron had it all planned out but inadvertently dropped the Spanish Reale while we were getting up from our picnic lunch and catching the eagle eye of Richard. Ron tried to pass it off but quickly fessed up to his plan to plant it for Linda. We all got a little bit of a laugh out of it, but it wasn't until later that we really had some fun. I dug a hole and stuck that coin down in the hole with just a little bit showing and snapped a picture. I then brushed away a little more sand and took another picture. The last picture is a picture I took of myself holding the coin with only about one-fourth of the sand-covered coin showing. Knowing that Jeff Lubbert is knowledgeable about coins, is a good sport and likes a good joke, I sent the photos off to him with no text message. The following texts followed:

The initial text message photo, lookin good!
I took the bait, hook, line and sinker

- Jeff: That looks good, what is it? Definitely foreign.
- Linda: Roman numerals on one side with DGHIS is what we can make out
- Jeff: Send a photo and I will see if I can find info online.
- Linda: 1760 on other side. I'll send better pictures later. On our way by boat to another part of island.
- Jeff: Congrats on that AWESOME find. I know who is buying ice cream this afternoon. (When we detect with a group of friends, the one who finds the best item has to buy ice cream for the group).

At this point, Ron suggested we let Jeff wait for those "better pictures." The text messages continued the next morning:

- Jeff: What? No close up photos of your coin? You're killing me!
- Linda: Sorry. We are out of range a lot here. Get you one in a few minutes. Made out a few more letters.

At this point I sent Jeff a picture of the coin that had the word copy stamped in very small letters. Thinking that he would zoom in and see that, I added: "Hope you didn't lose sleep over it. "

Jeff: That is a Spanish reale. Here is a photo of a clean reale. Woot woot, you are the queen of detecting!

Linda: Are you playing me now?

Jeff: No!!! That is a Spanish Reale!!!!!! Ice cream Baby!!!!

Linda: Ok the difference between your picture and mine are those 4 devaluing letters. C O P Y

Jeff: Oh NOOO!!!! I was so excited for you! It appears to have been in the sand for some time by how black it is.

Linda: Someone's idea of a sick joke. It was fun while it lasted.

Jeff: :0 Killin me!!!

Shell Island didn't turn up any good finds. In fact, among the four of us, we found less than $10 in coins the whole week, some dog tags and miscellaneous junk that I could have sworn were hinges off a treasure chest. Linda Kibler found a necklace, and Ron found a gold post earring in a parking lot.

Desperate to find treasure, Ron bought a power ball ticket and a $3 Florida lottery ticket called "Florida Treasure Hunt." That treasure hunt netted him $12. We talked with the Kiblers about what we would do if Ron won the power ball. We were thinking a club trip to England would be fun. Unfortunately for all of us, he didn't win. Don't wait for us to win the lottery to head off with other club members on detecting vacations. You can travel for a week together and still remain friends.

Our best treasure of the week was spending time detecting with friends, making memories, and playing a few pranks along the

SOMETHING TO GO SEE

Tanner Gun Show

February 16 - 17, 2013

Denver Merchandise Mart. This is a monthly event that has 700+ tables of merchandise ranging from modern weaponry to antiques and relic grade and reproduction items.

Book Sale

The Colorado School of Mines (CSM) Geology Museum will host a used book sale February 18-22 from 9-4 daily. These are the same days and hours as the CSM library book sale. Similarly, most prices will decrease about 50% each day. Our Museum book sale will be in the Museum building, in the room across the hall from the Museum entrance.

We have sorted through dozens of boxes of books, several hundred maps, and several hundred U.S.G.S. folios. There's a wide range of interesting publications for rock hobbyists, as well as explorationists. The Museum address is 1310 Maple Street in Golden and our phone number is 303-273-3815. We accept cash, checks, and credit cards. Members of the "Friends of the CSM Geology Museum" receive a 20% discount on all their purchases.

Remember that there is a small fee for parking in campus lots and on campus streets. Please make sure to pay for a parking permit from one of the parking kiosks and place the permit on your dashboard, to avoid being ticketed.

In-Town Hunt Schedule

As a Eureka member we want you to participate in and help put on In-Town club hunts. These hunts are meant to be fun, first and foremost. They provide a context outside of the meetings for fellowship with club members. To put on an in-town hunt you need to:

- Schedule with the Hunt Coordinator (see the contact list).
- Provide the Hunt Coordinator a plan.
- Send the hunt flyer to the newsletter editor in an appropriate format for insertion into the newsletter (see the contact list).
- Provide flyers at the monthly meeting.
- Ensure the hunt rules are discussed BEFORE the hunt.
- Police the hunt.
- The hunt master for any particular hunt can decide open hunt (non-members December hunt) or members only.
- Write a story for the newsletter and send it and accompanying photos to the newsletter editor prior to that month's deadline.

To ensure the continuation of this hobby and to provide the best impression of Eureka! and its membership, you, as hunt master, MUST enforce all rules, including:

1. Pouches to store finds and trash MUST be worn and used at all times during the hunt.
2. All hunters must wear headphones.
3. Absolutely no tolerance of holes left open. A first warning, followed by a time-out or expulsion from the hunt.
4. Hunters digging and leaving trash of any sort on the hunt field should receive the same treatment discussed above.

All hunts will need to be okayed by Hunt Coordinator (see the contact list) prior to officially being put in the newsletter and put on.

Failure to follow the guidelines December result in hunts being cancelled.

See the 2012 calendar for planned hunts and openings. See the Contact List for Hunt Coordinator & Newsletter Editor contact information.
