EUREKA! THC BOARD RESOLUTION

TEMPORARY - February 27, 2024

The Eureka! THC Board has adopted a TEMPORARY resolution for the addition of two (2) additional categories to the Find of the Month (FOM):

Costume Jewelry
Foreign Coins

By unanimous consent, the Eureka! THC Board decided to “TEST” two (2) additional TEMPORARY categories effective April 12 – October 11, 2024, 7 months. The information gathered during the “TEST” period will be reviewed by the Board in November 2024 to determine if the additional categories should be added to the FOM in the future.

During the “TEST” period, members may enter their finds in these additional categories; however, items entered in these categories will be eligible for the standard FOM honors, a silver dime for the winner of the category; however, the winners of these two (2) categories will NOT be eligible for the 2024 FOY awards. Like the winners of our five (5) categories, the winners of these two (2) TEMPORARY categories will be required to give a write-up of the story of their find(s) to be published in the Soundoff. These two (2) new TEMPORARY categories are meant to bring back some fun into the FOM competition.

In the future, if this resolution is approved by the Eureka! THC Board, the finds entered will become FOY eligible – 2025.

Questions: please see / contact any Eureka! THC Board member.

With March rolling around we will be getting back into competition hunt season. Our first competition hunt will be coming, you will be able to see the flyer within the newsletter. But with that being said let's look at some of the basics of competition hunting basics. Always arrive at a competition hunt a half hour before the scheduled start. Once you are at the hunt site, start up ALL of your equipment; detector(s), pin pointer, headphones and anything else you may have that is electronic. Make sure that they are in proper working condition and that they are in communication with each other. Make sure you have a trash pouch, they are required for all Eureka hunts, competition or natural. Make sure you have your target retrieval tool. Other things that one doesn't think about so much; sunscreen, water, hat, sunglasses, make sure if you want them during the hunt that you have them BEFORE the hunt begins. Expecting 40 people to wait on you while you gather equipment, try to change batteries, or locate someone else's backup equipment is not a welcome thing.

During the hunt, especially during the first 15 minutes, please be courteous and keep conversations, idle chit-chat and other disturbances to fellow hunters to a minimum or nonexistent. Also, the hunt field is only for those that are hunting or designated officials of the hunt. No guests, spouses, pets or children are allowed on the hunt field during the hunt. Exceptions for hunter assistants are made for those that are not physically able to recover a target but there are special rules for that as well.

Every hunt that Eureka puts on I am amazed by the volunteers that show up early to help set up, plant and help with those last-minute details. It is those people that make a good event turn into a very good or better event. Not enough good things can be said for those that help out before and after a hunt on a regular basis.

I look forward to seeing a good batch of Eureka members at the March hunt.

10 “Rules” for Club Hunts

by Norm Ruggles

First of all, despite the title, this article isn't really about our club's "rules". The official rules for club hunts are found in the Eureka! Member Handbook. This article is actually about 10 common sense "suggestions" for a successful and fun club hunt.

As everyone knows, we have a club hunt every month except during the holidays and in the deepest part of winter. Our board members and officers are each responsible for one hunt or activity per year. I've heard some people say it's easy to put on a club hunt. I disagree. Organizing and conducting a good, creative hunt requires a lot of time, preparation and work. There are plenty of details to attend to.

I've been responsible for club hunts as a board member, and have assisted my awesome wife (Sue) who just finished her term as a board member. I've also participated in many club hunts over the past several years. They have invariably been enjoyable! Based on my observations, I offer the following 10 suggestions with the goal of making our club hunts run just a little more smoothly.

Rule #1. Don't try to sign up at the last minute. The person organizing the hunt (the "hunt master") acquires coins, prizes and refreshments in advance of the hunt using a budget. The budget is based on the number of hunters and the amount of their entry fees. The hunt master must carefully plan to have the costs of the hunt match the fees paid. This balancing act is tricky and is thrown off if unexpected people are allowed to enter at the last minute.

Rule #2. Show up ahead of the scheduled start time. Understand the location and distance to the hunt and give yourself enough leeway so you can arrive and get prepared. It's very aggravating when everyone is ready to begin the hunt, but has to wait around for a latecomer. Unfortunately, this happens fairly often.

Rule #3. Test your equipment beforehand. Make sure your detector, headphones and pin-pointer are ready for action, are fully charged and have fresh batteries before you leave your house. As we said in the Army, be ready to "lock and load". You certainly don't want an equipment failure during the battle, oops I mean during the hunt.

Rule #4. Listen carefully to the instructions from the hunt master. Every hunt is different and it's to your advantage to know exactly what's going to happen. I've often seen hunters head out for the hunt field without listening to the instructions. Why not pay attention so you can maximize your efforts?

Rule #5. Once the hunt begins, use nothing more than a probe or screwdriver for retrieval of targets. Many targets are located on the surface or are barely tucked in the grass, and you can easily grab them with your fingers. Targets are never hidden deep in the ground and you don't need to dig a hole. If you do disturb the grass or ground surface, take a few seconds and smooth it over before you move on.

Rule #6. Don't crowd other hunters or cut in front of them with your detector. This is of course inconsiderate if not downright rude. Be alert and be respectful toward your fellow hunters. Everyone deserves their own "space".

Rule #7. You'd think this would go without saying, but please don't sing, whistle or otherwise disrupt other hunters. It happens. You may believe you sound like Frank Sinatra, but trust me, you don't. I'd rather hear fingernails scraping on a chalkboard. Save your singing and whistling for the shower.

Rule #8. If you come across trash or litter, toss it into your pouch. This includes pull tabs and bottle caps. Let's leave the hunt field cleaner than when we started.

Rule #9. When the hunt master indicates the hunt is over, stop hunting. Don't press your luck for a couple more minutes hoping to find another treasure. When the hunt is over, it's over. Head back to the gathering area like everyone else.

Rule #10. This is often overlooked or forgotten, but is important. Tell the hunt master "thank you". Do the same for the volunteers who have assisted with the hunt. That's common courtesy. Besides spending their time, some hunt masters spend their own money to acquire additional coins, prizes and food that exceed the entry fees. Try to remember to express your appreciation for the fun opportunity you've had.

Well, that's about it. While most of our members abide by these "rules" most of the time, there's probably a rule or two on this list that will ring a bell with each of us. These suggestions are offered to make our excellent club hunts even a bit better. Thanks for reading, and find something good!

CSU Spur Tour

by Brice Young

'Twas a cold and wintery day. Hundreds of brave souls showed up for the CSU Spur tour, including six people from the club. Randy, Mary, Marty, Dan, Brice and his wife. We had a great tour by our friend and volunteer named John. We met at the Vida building to watch vets perform operations on cats and dogs (I hope that cat's voice doesn't change after having his testes removed and put on display in the window). We also had a private demonstration wearing virtual reality goggles.

When we were done touring the Vida building, we then proceeded to the other two CSU buildings named Terra and Hydro for more exciting demos and knowledgeable talks by our guide.

Each member that showed up will receive a token and coin from me for their participation.
